

Please! Do not weaken the no call list. The banking industry or anyone else does not need to have telemarketers bothering the public with their sales pitches. The calls come through as unavailable so you don't even know who is harassing you. Thank you for listening.

Rosemary Johnson